LIVING IN THE SPIRIT OF SUCCESS

Carey W. Worth

"Success is the biggest paycheck we will ever receive."

In coming to WSSU, we considered ourselves on the job. It's a full time job and how we spend our time at work will determine the spirit of success.

As we go about our daily lives, whether it is here at WSSU or some other fine institution, we must not forget our purpose for being students. We are here to learn, and all other things come second. Had our purpose been to have a four year party, then we would have had to pay a cover charge — not tuition.

To the graduating class of 1987, may you always live in the spirit of success!

As you begin to turn through the pages of this yearbook, you will notice a few changes. In an attempt to better serve you, the yearbook staff took a good idea and made it better. This book is surrounded by a story; we as students and the workplace — Winston-Salem State University.

My first words of thanks are to Almighty God who gave me strength to face each new day. Next, I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to all those special people who took part in this yearbook and to the members of the yearbook staff who took great pains in helping mold this idea into what you will see throughout the pages of this year's edition of THE RAM. In addition, extra special thanks go to Mr. Beaufort O. Bailey, Ms. Cassandra V. Douglas, Mr. J. B. Edwards, and Ms. JoAnn Thomas who shared their knowledge and expertise. Thanks also go to Dr. and Mrs. Cleon Thompson, Mrs. Elaine Browne, Mr. John Slade, Mrs. Patricia Mobley-Hairston, Mrs. Brenda Smith, Mrs. Evelyn Gullick, Mrs. Maurice Johnson, Mr. James Hamm, Mr. Michael Clark, Dr. Donald Suttles, Dr. Rebecca Nail, Dr. James Dervin, Ms. Bonita Hall and last but not least Jai-Byrd for their work, constant support and willingness to always lend a hand.

We, the yearbook staff, have tried to convey within these pages the experiences here at WSSU that you will treasure for a lifetime.

In closing, I am proud to have been a Ram and to have served as your Editor-In-Chief.

Sincerely,

Carey W. Worth

Inaugural week featured three receptions, two breakfasts, two forum discussions, a Greek fest, show, and a "This is your life" tribute to its new chief executive, Chancellor Cleon Franklin Thompson, Jr.

An 80 member committee was formed six months in advance to plan the four days designated as Inaugural week, which came to head April 1 with the official installation of WSSU's eighth chief administrator. More than a hundred delegates from colleges, universities, learned societies, and organizations from around the county were on hand to help WSSU celebrate the inauguration of its new leader. Said Dr. James E. Check, President of Howard University, in his Inaugural Address: "You have chosen well and wisely. Dr. Thompson knows where to go and how to get there."

A highlight of the inaugural ceremony, which boasted an overflow crowd of more than two thousand, was the unveiling of the university's first mace, the staff used in academic ecclesiastical ceremonies.

INAUGURATION

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

Dr. Glenn E. Thompson Jr. was the first of the Winston-Salem State University's chief administrators to be handed the university's MACE.

The MACE, a ceremonial staff used as a symbol of authority often carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, was commissioned by the Office of the Chancellor and designed by Mr. Roland S. Watts, chairman of the WSSU Department of Art. The impressive work "... began a quite a challenge," says Mr. Watts, "and much time was spent in formulating ideas that were related to the university, and at the same time, a design that would be of today."

The MACE, which will be handed down from administration to administration, is 39 inches in length with a walnut staff inlaid with silver and a solid brass ball at the base.

The design depicts space flight with the imaginary fins of a rocket ship done in silver. The three rings are of brass and are representative of the atom. Mounted at the top of the ring is a figurine of Athena, the Greek goddess of wisdom.

The MACE is fabricated largely of solid brass metal, heavily plated with silver and gold. The plating is highly polished, except for the applied three emblems — the ram (the university mascot), the arch (a long standing campus symbol), and the university seal and the figurine which are antiqued. Above and below the three emblem, encircling the collar of the mace are the inscriptions WINSTON-SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY ... ENTER TO LEARN DEPART TO SERVE, in highlighted recessed letters.

CAMPUS LIFE THE DREAM BECOMES REALITY

CAMPUS LIFE

In 1892, Simon Green Atkins had a dream in which he envisioned an institute of higher learning, an institution where black people could come together in a unified mass and pursue areas of their minds that had been untouched for far too many years. This institution was Slater Industrial Academy. Little did our founder know that one day this one-room frame structure with a mere 25 pupils and one teacher would become the first black institution in the nation to grant degrees for teaching in the elementary grades, Winston-Salem Teachers College, or TC, as it is affectionately known by its many alumni.

In 1969, TC received legislative approval to change its name to Winston-Salem State University as it is still called. WSSU is an accredited, four-year, co-educational, state-supported liberal arts institution. The campus houses 27 well-equipped buildings on an 81-acre tract in Winston-Salem, Forsyth County, North Carolina, a city of about 139,000 residents.

WSSU has a variety of activities and major programs to offer present and prospective students. Since the campus is located close to Winston-Salem's fine theaters, art galleries, and concert facilities, the students are never at a loss for something to do.

An example of the many major programs offered are accounting, education, mass communications and business administration.

The Academic Computer Center, located in the basement of the R.J. Reynolds Center, is a resource equipped with 32 Apple microcomputers and 14 IBM Series 1 computers and is accessible to all students, Monday through Thursday.

C.G. O'Kelly Library is a structure housing 150,000 volumes and a large periodical collection. The library is centrally located on the campus, allowing students easy access to its facilities.

The R.J. Reynolds Center is the newest facility on campus. The facility houses the business department in a 50,000-square-foot building containing 14 classrooms, four seminar rooms, three business information laboratories, an instructional word processing center, and a 209-seat lecture hall.

There are more than 80 student organizations on campus including honor societies, professional associations, religious groups, hobby and sports clubs, and 20 fraternities, sororities, and social groups.

The Rams take pride in their great athletic department led by Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines, the winningest active basketball coach in the nation. The school's football, softball, and wrestling programs, too, are enough to make any Ram proud. There are tennis, volleyball and track teams as well.

Intramural programs allow those students not interested in the collegiate aspects of sports the opportunity of competing with their fellow students and take part in the Ram spirit.

The C.E. Gaines Center is the campus 2500 seat sports arena. Exercise rooms and an olympic-sized swimming pool are open to all students.

WSSU is an active member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA), and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Culture is a big part of the Ram tradition. Nationally-known lecturers and Broadway musicals such as "Ain't Misbehavin'" and "A Chorus Line" have been seen on the stage of the 1800-seat K.R. Williams auditorium.

1987 Winston-Salem State University hosted the Wrestling Classic.

Outstanding works of art by renowned artist and WSSU graduate Selma Burke can be seen in the Selma Burke Gallery.

The area surrounding the campus auditorium is known as the Sculpture Garden, a unique series of pieces of sculpture by various sculptors brought to campus by various competitions.

WSNC-FM is the voice of WSSU, a contemporary jazz, mellow music, and news and public affairs station. This student-operated, 25-watt stereo station broadcasts from a professionally equipped studio on campus.

A brief look at the many other campus activities includes:

Cooperative Education is a program that gives every student the opportunity to combine practical work experience with classroom and laboratory instruction.

Project strengthen employs students as research assistants. It is a university-wide program designed to provide basic research and advanced academic opportunities in the biomedical field.

The ROTC (Reserve Officers Training Program) is for students interested in pursuing careers with the military. This program, in conjunction with Wake Forest University, upon completion leads to commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army for active and reserve duty.

The Enrichment Center is an innovative learning laboratory that gives students and faculty access to the latest audio-visual learning materials.

Supplemental Education Program aids students that have been identified as having weaknesses in basic skills such as English, mathematics, and reading.

Career Counseling and Placement is available at the office of Career Services. Recruiters from major corporations, government agencies, and graduate schools interview students at this facility.

The Counseling Center helps freshmen students adjust to campus life by employing upperclass students to aid them with personal, vocational, academic and financial concerns.

At WSSU, the student is our top priority! ■

Senior Class History

There is an old adage which says "time flies when you are having fun." That was certainly true for the class of '87. The past four years have been most exciting.

When we entered Winston-Salem State University in 1983, there was the aura of mystery. Most of us had never been away from home for a period of time and this new environment presented a challenge. However, it did not take long to adjust academically and socially to the institution. Each of us believed in academic excellence and prepared to meet the challenge of college life.

Kevin Davis was elected president of the freshman class, and under his leadership we began to make our presence known on campus. We attended our first Black College Day in Raleigh, NC, that year. More than one-half of the students from WSSU were members of our class. Another first for us was witnessing the coronation of Miss WSSU. Ms. Kimberly Alston was elected Miss Freshman and represented our class in that event.

Even though academics came first, we had time to enjoy football and basketball games. In fact, the success of the athletic teams depended, in part, on many of the young men in our class. Derrick Beasley, Mark Wallace, Marsha Paul, Leonardo Horne and Vernard Dillard were recipients of the NAIA District 26 honors. The final highlight of our first year at WSSU was a trip to Carowinds Amusement Park.

Our second year on campus proved to be more exciting than the first. Most of us had made the transition from high school to college. Further, we were better prepared to raise money for class projects. Our class president, Michael Clark, saw it that we met monthly in order to discuss fund raising activities. Out of one brainstorming session came the idea for a fashion show. This show was a success.

Also, after much planning, we were able to sponsor the Mr. Atlas and Ms. Bathing Beauty Contest that year. In addition, we purchased sweatshirts in our class colors and with our motto on them. Other WSSU students admired our distinguished black and gray sweats and wanted to purchase some. Our class queen for the 1984-85 school year was Ms. Renee Williams.

As we moved into our Junior year, we witnessed the inauguration of Chancellor Cleon Thompson, Jr. Dr. Thompson informed us that, as a student-oriented person, he planned to make students the focus of his administration. For us, we were pleased to know that the mission of the university would not change and that the new Chancellor was willing to work closely with students. We pledged him our support.

The leader of our class that year was Kenny Riddick, and Ms. Denise Norwood was our class queen. We were honored to have Oletha Coulter, Lisa Dickens, Bichson Stevenson and Karen Thompson selected to Who's Who Among American College Students.

Our Junior year was also full of excitement, especially the fun filled week of Homecoming. The Junior Class was named the most spirited class at the university. Also, the WSSU Student Government Association was invaded by members of our class. Michael Clark, Cassandra Evans and Regina Mack made their presence felt.

Unfortunately, the year ended on a sad note. Diane Robinson, a member of our class, died. She is gone but not forgotten.

As seniors, most of us were prepared to meet the challenges in the world of work. WSSU had prepared us well. Robert Mack, our class president, kept us informed about our obligations as seniors — apply for graduation, send out invitations, take class pictures, leave the university a gift and participate in the commencement exercise.

Again, we had several members from our class who were selected to Who's Who Among American College Students. They were Renee Williams, Starlae Robinson, Regina Drakeford, Lula Brunson, Yvonne Brown and Yolanda Jones. There were other members from our class who led the Student Government Association. Michael Clark was its president and Edward Singleton, the vice-president. Ms. Tanya Edwards was Miss WSSU. The Senior Class queen was Regina Drakeford.

Four glorious years have past and we have many pleasant memories of WSSU. We will always have love in our hearts for our university. As we part from the university family, the Class of '87 leaves these words of wisdom:

The Past is gone,
Remember it.
The Present is here,
Deal with it.
The Future is to come,
Prepare for it.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP

Leaders are made Ram tough!

Winston-Salem State University
WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA 27102

December, 1986

Dear Fellow Rams:

I would like to express my gratitude to you for electing me as your Student Government Association President. Being President of the Student Government Association has been one of the most enjoyable experiences of my life. I would like to thank you for your support during my tenure.

Congratulations to the Class of 1987 for its achievements to date. It means a great deal to be a graduate of Winston-Salem State University. You have shown that you can negotiate the rigors of college life and be successful in the process. As you leave this great University, do not forget your responsibilities to always support it. It received you as a freshman, prepared to serve, and is now sending you out into the world. As you go forth from 'Ole 'SU, remember it is your prayers and support it monetarily.

Underclassmen, I encourage you to be all that you can be. Never sell yourselves short. Keep God in your hearts.

Faculty, Administration, and Staff: Thank you for sharing with me your experiences and knowledge. You helped me to matriculate, mature, and develop into a confident adult.

Sincerely,

Michael A. Clark

PERCY JOHNSON
STUDENT STATION MANAGER

WSNC-FM 90.5, the broadcast voice of the Winston-Salem State University Rams, improved immensely during the 1986-1987 school year. The station increased its daily broadcast schedule from 12 to 18 hours, diversified the station's musical format, formed a student staff, and acquired a new general manager, Ms. Sonja Williams.

WSNC-FM received its construction permit on August 3, 1982, and began broadcasting on May 2, 1983. The station's format was primarily jazz until the 1986 fall semester when it was changed to a well-rounded blend of rhythm and blues, jazz, gospel, and Reggae. Live newscasts were also broadcast for the time during the school year as the news staff provided the news four times daily.

THE PRIDE OF THE CIAA

CHEERLEADERS

WSSU's cheerleading squad consists of some of the most talented young ladies in the CIAA. They are the number one supporters of our football and basketball teams. Their performances involved highly skilled moves, jumps and gymnastics formations. Aside from cheering during game time, they are involved in many other university activities. Their biggest project is an annual food drive for the needy for Thanksgiving. We are very proud of our cheerleaders.

BUSINESS INDUSTRY CLUSTER AWARD RECIPIENT
MRS. BESSIE RHYNE

“And gladly would he learn, and gladly teach.” Geoffrey Chaucer Prologue,
The Canterbury Tales

The effective teacher is a good student as Chaucer implies in Prologue, The Canterbury Tales. The Wachovia Excellence in Teaching Award recognizes those qualities in educators at Winston-Salem
State University.

The $1000 award is presented annually to an instructor who has been nominated and selected on the basis of teaching effectiveness, scholarly achievement, professional participation and community service. To be eligible, nominees must have taught for at least three years at WSSU. Each must also teach at least nine semester hours per semester during the year he or she is nominated.

An ad hoc committee is appointed to screen nominations and choose a winner.
The committee is comprised of four faculty members, one representative, and three WSSU students. Two students are appointed by the president of the Student Government Association. All other members of the committee are appointed by the vice chancellor for academic affairs.
After evaluating the nominees, the selection committee recommends the recipient to the Chancellor.

The award is presented to the honoree during the Parents' Day/Honors Day
Program each spring.

IN MEMORY OF

Shandra Michelle Reid
Winston-Salem, North Carolina

It seems unreal that you are gone,
When just the other day
You walked and talked and laughed with us
Then quietly slipped away.

Your lovely face, your bubbling laugh,
How sweet the memory still
Your parting left an aching void,
This world could never fill.

NEWS BREAK

LET'S KEEP THE DREAM ALIVE

The Winston-Salem State University Chapter along with the city chapter of the NAACP, sponsored a banquet on January 19, 1984. Faculty, staff and students spoke on "Living the Dream, Let Freedom Ring."

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING
CELEBRATION

The Anheuser Bush Budweiser Company donated $5,000. A portion will be used to establish an endowment scholarship program for a Senior Business major from Forsyth or Stokes County.

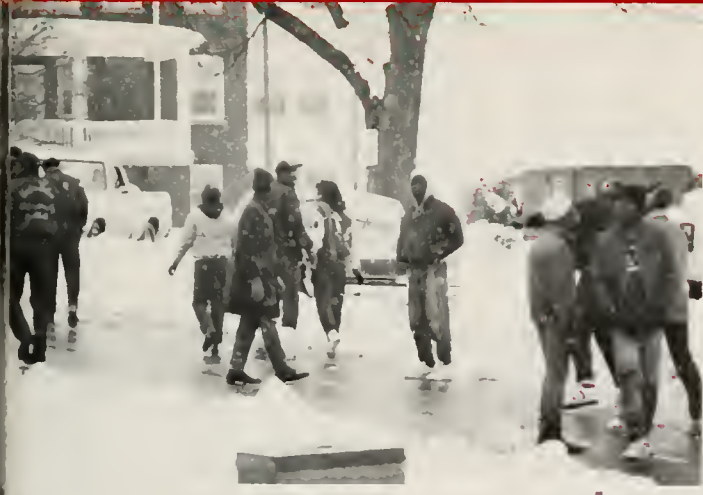

The Early Childhood Center was honored with a Christmas party given by Dr. and Mrs. Cleon F. Thompson, Jr. Santa Claus made an early visit.

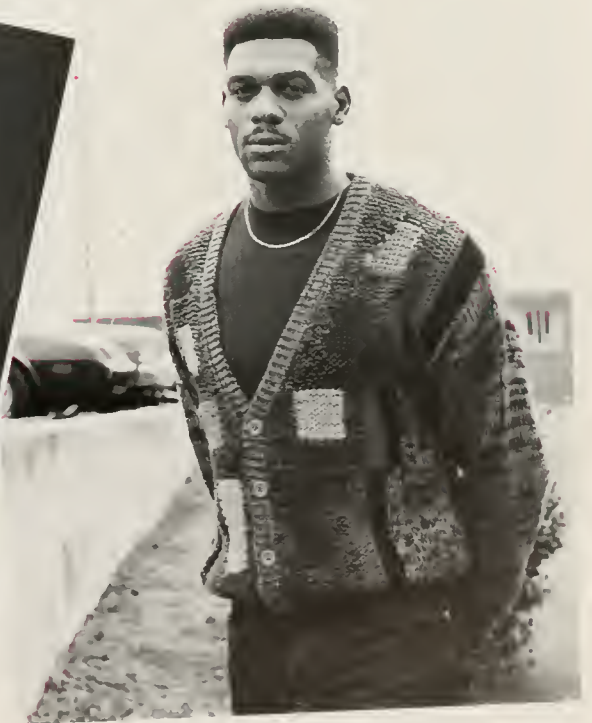

This year Winston-Salem had its first record breaking snow in fifty-seven years. The snow cancelled classes for three days. After it stopped snowing it started raining, making conditions slippery and dangerous.

Trends have changed very much along the hair and fashion line. During the 70's and early 80's people were wearing afros and blue jeans.

Now in the mid 80's people are wearing hair styles called the snatch back, stacks, rat tail, blunt, rabbit tail, curls, plain pattie, fade, and finger waves to name a few.

Popular in fashion are sweaters, sweater dresses, baggy clothes, designer clothes, and all sorts of hats and colorful shoes. Winston-Salem State University is full of students who feel obligated to make a fashion statement.

THE "HOUSE" REACHES ANOTHER MILESTONE

The Rams' Football Season began with a 44-7 victory over Virginia State Trojans. Using the "Wing-T" offense, the Rams gained 432 yards in an inspiring victory. Sophomore quarterback Bobby Junior led with six of his eight passes for 117 yards and two touchdowns. The Rams' defense was too strong for the Virginia State Trojans. The Trojans managed only three first downs in the first half of the game, with no touchdown. The Rams topped the Trojans 10-0 in the first quarter. They held the Trojans on three plays and after a 30-yard punt, drove 65 yards in nine plays to take 17-0 lead with 14:15 left in the second quarter. Bobby Junior pulled together a 26 yard pass to Lonnie Pulley to keep the drive intense on the third and nine. Leonardo Horn led the Rams' rushing attack with 71 yards and two touchdowns on 14 carries. The Rams did not slack off in the second half. They played more intensely. Hayes used nine of his best running backs and four quarterbacks in the second half of the game. Senior quarterback Dana Walker ran 62 yards on four carries.

This grand victory was soon forgotten on the following Saturday's game against the Aggies of A&T. The Rams played hard but they seemed to have had some problems. The Aggies were ready for the battle against the Rams. The Rams were forced to punt on their initial possession. The Aggies were then able to drive 67 yards within eight plays to take a 7-0 lead. The Rams finally scored with a 44 yard field goal from junior, Tyronne Smith making the score 7-3, Aggies still in the lead. Where was the Rams' defense? A&T drove 70 yards in nine plays to go on top 14-3. The Rams regained confidence and strength. Bobby Junior's passing led them from their 15 to A&T's 28. On third and eight, Junior tossed a perfect pass to James Johnson, but he failed to make the catch in the end zone. The Rams fans were all standing on their feet with the expectation that Johnson would surely catch it. What happened? Smith had to then connect on the 45-yard field goal to bring the score to 14-6 with 12:45 left in the first half. The Rams held A&T on its next possession, but missed an opportunity to close even further in the final minute of the half. The Rams tried moving to the Aggies 27, but senior Masha Paul was stopped for a loss on fourth and one with 45 seconds remaining in the first half. The battle continued in the second half. WSSU took only four plays to score on its first touchdown of the game to close to 14-12. In an attempt pass by Alan Hooker of A&T to Anthony Best, WSSU's Raymond Puryear intercepted allowing the Rams to go on top 15-14. The Aggies came back the Rams 21-14 with a 62-yard touchdown. This did not discourage the Rams. Dana Walker went 65 yards in nine plays to tie the score. Walker got the touchdown on a quarterback "sneak" after three attempts to drive the ball in. Smith's point after attempt was blocked by the Aggies' Broderick Rouse with 11:26 to play. A&T used about five minutes on its next possession but came up empty handed when it failed to convert a fourth and one at the Ram's ten. The Rams, backed up in Aggie territory, could move no further than its 27 before having to punt, which was not successful. Vincent Jones got off with his worse punt of the year, a 30-yarder and the Aggies took over on their 43. Alan Hooker then terminated the battle with the final touchdown, 28-21.

Misfortune seemed to abide with the Rams for another weekend. Central State defeated the Rams 38-5. Although this was not a conference game, the defeat was detrimental to the Rams' record and the attitudes of the coaches toward the players. Teammates began to feel that the coaches lost confidence in them. To regain their confidence, the Rams knew they had to win their next game against Hampton University. The Rams came out on the field determined more than ever not to lose this one. Their strong efforts paid off with a 38-6 victory over the Hampton Pirates. A local sports/writer's comments were "the Rams played as though they were in a back-alley brawl," forcing six fumbles (four of which they recovered) and intercepting five Pirate passes. Marsha Paul made a 72-yard touchdown pass from Bobby Junior and caught a total of three passes for 91 yards. Derrick Beasley had 15 tackles and Mark Wallace 14 tackles. These two players after four games, led the team in tackles. Beasley was credited with 46 stops and Wallace with 45 stops. Donald Evans had two sacks. Lesley Barley had 10 tackles and an interception return for a touchdown. These defensive players came out strong and had much to do with the Rams winning the game.

Leroy Wonsley had 18 carries and 97 yards. Frankie Torrence had eight yards on three fourth quarter carries. These two players were the inside "muscle" for the Rams.

The Rams came out on top with a victory over the Eagles of North Carolina Central. During the game, it seemed as though the victory would belong to the Eagles. The Eagles put up a tough fight. In the third quarter of the game, Central led with 21-7. The Rams did have a 7-0 lead but three consecutive touchdowns by the Eagles wiped the Rams out-momentarily.

The Rams regained confidence when Central's punting game collapsed under pressure. The Rams took over. Leroy Wonsley made a touchdown on a "bullish" run off right tackle and the point after kick by Tyronne Smith slashed the lead in half to 21-14 with 7:28 to play in the quarter. The Rams had one promising drive end at the Eagles' 46 early in the fourth which failed at the six. Bobby Junior dropped there on third down and was standing at the 10, waiting for a receiver to break loose, causing the Eagles to recover the ball. Bobby Junior had 6:06 left to work with and managed his time well after the Rams recovered the ball. He gained the necessary yardage by about the nose of the ball. On a dramatic touchdown attempt in the final six minutes. Junior succeeded. This raised the Rams to a 22-21 victory.

On the following Saturday, the Rams traveled to Washington, DC to battle the Bisons of Howard University. The Rams definitely had some problems in this game. Howard won 37-6. Seemingly, our defense was no match against the Bisons. This game was actually a "scuffle" between two teams determined not to give up.

The next team for the Rams to battle was the Broncos of Fayetteville State. This was not an easy game to win for the Rams. The Broncos were ready! Nevertheless, the Rams had tightened up both defensively and offensively. The final score for this game was 22-14, Another victory for the Rams.

Bowie State Bulldogs did not stand a chance against the Rams of WSSU. The Rams were too tough! The Bulldogs could not stand the "beatings" that our defensive line exerted. The final score was 43-7. What a way to brighten up Homecoming on a rainy day.

The Ram's victory over Johnson C. Smith, 32-7, enabled them to take hold to the CIAA title yet, there were two games left to play, Elizabeth City and St. Paul before becoming the champions. Although the Rams did not win the CIAA, overall it was a great season.

The Homecoming Tradition Rams On!

Homecoming week consisted of an array of fun-filled activities. The Freshman Class was introduced to "The Ram Experience" as they laboriously raffled off tickets for a WSSU starter jacket and participated in a special Freshman Double Feature held at the Student Union. Incidentally, Sunday was deemed "Freshman Day" (YEAH).

The Sophomore Class got the ball rolling with balloon-a-gram sale and raffle for tickets to the Homecoming Show. The Junior Class made their presence known with such social activities as Punk Rock Day and a Toga Party. Laurel wreaths and white sheets were seen everywhere. Now, wasn't that neat! Wednesday was declared "Senior Day," all the seniors gathering at the Student Union where they began their spirit march. They marched into the cafe chanting; It's Homecoming Y'all, It's Homecoming Y'all" as loud as their voices would allow. Afterwards, the Senior Class trotted off to The Red Room where they had their traditional fellowship dinner.

Thursday night Miss Tonya Edwards was crowned Miss WSSU. Students sat with gleaming smiles as they watched the lovely Tonya Edwards accept her crown with pride. Friday, The Founder's Day program kicked off the main event. As we, the students of WSSU, received a very dynamic message from well-known speakers, we were reminded of our purpose in coming to Winston-Salem State University. After the Founder's Day program was the dedication of two new computer lab centers designed to provide the students with the tools they need in these changing times. The mini-parade began shortly after the opening of the computer labs, and students were able to relax and get down into the Homecoming Spirit. Afterwards, there was a pep rally held in the old gym in support of our mighty Ram football team. Saturday, we began the day with "The Home Coming

At the Homecoming game, the football team ran all over Bowie State with a victory of 43-0, just one victory away from becoming the Southern Division Champs for the third year in a row. After the game we engaged in the smooth sounds of the S.O.S. band and Maze featuring Frankie Beverly. As the Home Coming activities came to an end, we watched the WSSU Alumni wave goodbye and drive off. It's always a pleasure to see the alumni come home for Homecoming. Truly Ram Land's Homecoming's are the best! ■

WORKING PERSON'S

CAREER SERVICES

Sandy Sosnick, Director of Career Services

Walter Odom, Coordinator of Cooperative Education

Career planning is a developmental process for students; therefore, as a part of their educational experience, students have career planning and placement services available to them during the entire academic experience. Among the services offered are career counseling of individuals and of groups (including the development of decision-making skills necessary for life-long planning); a career information library; sponsorship of career outreach programs; arrangements for visits to the campus of recruitment representatives from business, industry, government, school systems and graduate schools; and placement of students in employment or further professional preparation programs.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION

The Office of Career Services also coordinates the education program, or Co-op at Winston-Salem State University provides opportunities for interested students to combine practical work experience with classroom and laboratory instruction. The program provides jobs in business, industry and government directly related to the individuals major field of academic study.

Cooperative education provides for experience in the real world of work by two plans: the alternating plan in which students alternate semesters of full-time academic study and full-time employment and the parallel plan in which students become part-time students and work part-time. The goal of the program is to provide students with compensated work experience relevant to their majors with credit awarded by their major departments. Interested students may apply for this program at the cooperative education office.

Sandy Sosnick, Phyllis Smith, Ann Cline, Sondra Williams, Barry Graves, Arlethia Thompson, Walter Odom, Greg Hairston

STUDENTS INTERNS

Tanya H. Hamlin, a junior computer science major from Winston-Salem, N.C., worked at Wachovia Bank as a systems librarian.

The duties of the systems librarian dealt with assisting programmers and working with documentation of system devices.

"Through Co-op I learned the basic characteristics that it takes to be an efficient and desirable programmer."

Victor O. Coffey, a senior mass communications major from Wendell, N.C. worked at the North Carolina Department of Public Education as a research assistant.

The duty of the research assistant was to assist the deputy superintendent. Coffey worked in the branch of media/technology, which is made up of the computer services, education information services, media production services, media support services and school media program service.

"The co-op position has helped to make a decision about my career. The strongest point about this co-op position is that I had a chance to do more than what was required of me."

THE CO-OP EXPERIENCE

Toni Shaw, a senior art major from Burlington, N.C. worked at the Personnel Development Training Center in Raleigh, N.C., as an assistant graphic illustrator/assistant media specialist.

The duty of the assistant graphic illustrator is to work with each branch of the office of State Personnel. Pamphlets, book covers, flyers and logos are created for specific educational programs which are sometimes designed for the legislative and executive branch officers.

The assistant media specialist works mainly with the audio systems and video cameras. The media specialist decides on what type of music might accompany the slide shows.

Shaw's educational goal is to receive her master's in art illustration at the American Institute of Applied Arts in Atlanta, Ga.

Alice L. Joyner, a native of Durham, N.C., majoring in business information systems, worked at Wachovia Bank in Winston-Salem, N.C., as a systems librarian.

Her duties as a librarian dealt with documenting system devices and assisting programmers.

Joyner hopes to be able to use this Co-op experience to set an edge on the job market. She hopes to work at Wachovia on a permanent basis.

Deborah V. Barr, a senior political science major from Winston-Salem, N.C., worked for the Alcohol Beverage Control Board on the administrative level.

Her duties were ordering liquor for the store and checking it when it came in on Wednesday. She plans to pursue a master's in public administration.

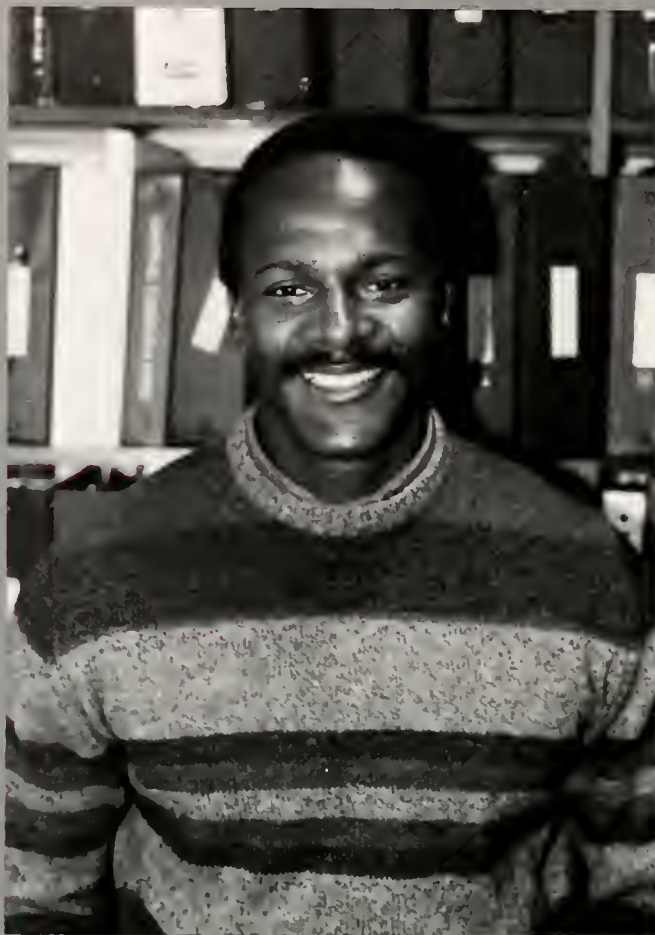

Juan Evans, a native of Jacksonville, N.C., worked at the Division of Crime Control Public Safety.

The title of the job was systems manager assistant and involved making sure the systems ran smoothly and assisting other users.

Evans hopes to gain additional experience and knowledge by using a larger and more powerful system.

JOB LOCATION AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Barry Graves is in charge of the Job Location and Development Program at Winston-Salem State University. The responsibilities of this position are to develop part-time and full-time off-campus employment opportunities, preparation of students for employment (including instruction in career exploration and employability skills), vocational and academic advisement, organization of career preparation of seminar series, data collection and analysis for federal reporting purposes.

During the student's initial visit to the JLD office, data on work experience, interest and general background are gathered. Additionally, assistance is offered in developing a resume' and strengthening interviewing skills. This preparation increases the student's chances for employment. Then students with the right qualifications are matched with appropriate jobs, and referrals are made. Employers make the final hiring decisions.

Jobs located through the JLD Program cover a variety of fields. Unlike the cooperative education program, the JLD Program is not of academic nature. Many of the jobs do not offer students experience relevant to their career aspirations. Even jobs unrelated to a student's academic pursuit can provide self-confidence, a work history and a chance to improve interpersonal skills as well as personal finances.

THE PART-TIME JOB

College has boarding students as well as commuting students. There is another distinct group of students, working students. The working student must tackle two goals. He or she must study as well as work. These students must adjust their schedules in order to accomplish these goals.

Students have many reasons for working. They may need extra spending money or money to assist in the cost of their education. Whatever the reason, we should salute these students for their ability to get an excellent education and work as part of it.

CONTINUING STUDENTS

Interest in receiving a higher education is not only spawned in students fresh out of high school. Non-degree professionals and skilled laborers are an integral part of the WSSU student body. Although most students come to us straight from mom and dad's care, there are a lot of students who are moms and dads themselves and care about continuing their education.

The Teacher's Fair was held February 4, 1987, in the C.E. Gaines Center. The Winston-Salem State University Career Placement and Planning sponsored the activity. Winston-Salem State University students and students from other colleges and universities attended. 137 school systems were in attendance at this year's teachers fair.

The IMA

The Intercollegiate Music Association was founded over twenty-five years ago as a vehicle for enriching and enhancing the development of the students of its member institutions. To that time, virtually the only intercollegiate student experiences centered around football, basketball, and other competitive sports. Founders Evelyn Johnson, Albert Grauer, and Nathaniel Gatlin believed that IMA could present an opportunity for cooperative, non competitive activities among the students from member colleges and universities. The first conference was held May 11-13, 1962, at Elizabeth City State University. Last year the conference returned to ECSU for its silver anniversary celebration. Now, as it enters its next quarter century, IMA stands poised on the foundations of a solid past, ready to move boldly into the future. WSSU hosted this year's conference.

THE ALBERT H. ANDERSON CONTINUING EDUCATION CENTER

The Albert H. Anderson Continuing Education Center will be accessible to university-sponsored groups, groups sponsored by public and private agencies, and the community at large for public programs, general meetings, and special presentations. Additionally, the center is designed to provide a favorable learning environment for several academic programs servicing the general student population.

Occupancy of this facility is scheduled for the fall of 1987. In addition to the Facility's director, the center will house the Continuing Education Program, the Graduate Center, the Department of Education and Physical Education, Commercial Music and Dramatic Arts Facilities, the Minority Biomedical Research Support Program (Project Strengthen), and the Microelectronics Center.

THE O'KELLY LIBRARY

Through the early years, the college library operated informally with friends donating daily and weekly newspapers and magazines for students. Then, in 1924, the first recorded attempt to organize the library was made. Nearly 3,000 volumes were counted and stored in Carolina Hall.

The next major thrust to strengthen the resources came in 1940. The collection was relocated to Blair Administration/Library Building, and friends continued to play a significant role in collection growth through their substantial contributions. The collection developed from less than 25,000 volumes to nearly 50,000 volumes between 1940 and 1967.

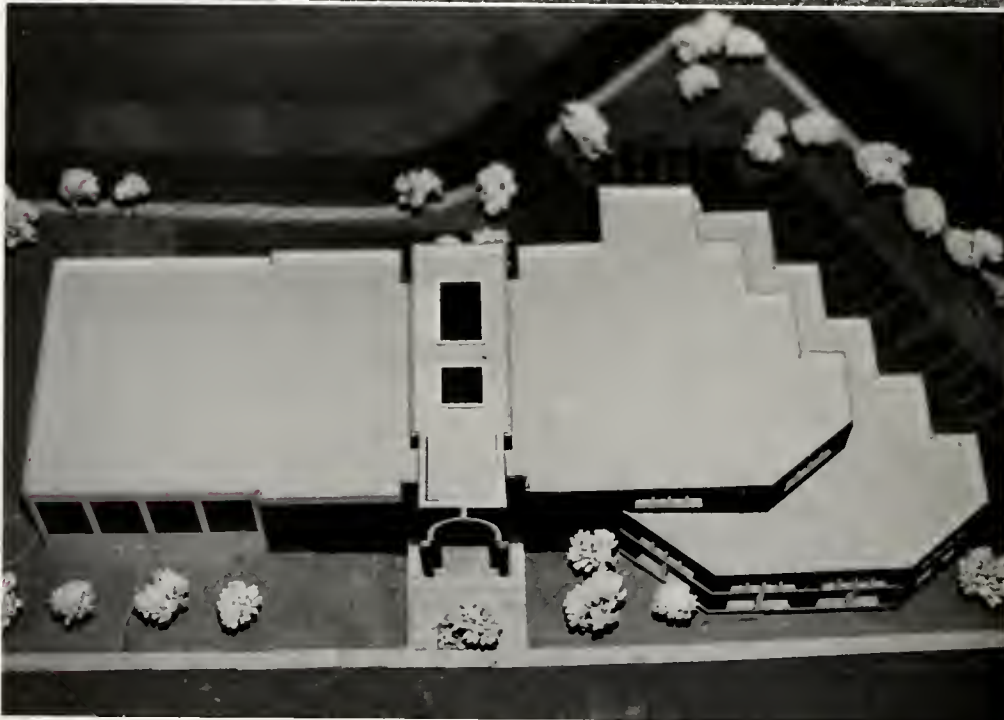

The library moved into new quarters in March, 1967, when the 32,990-square-foot C. G. O'Kelly Library — named for a president — was completed. A major fund raising campaign was launched in 1967 to develop a collection to support the newly inaugurated liberal arts curriculum. Again, alumni and friends worked diligently to achieve the goal.

As the collection continued to grow, the need arose for larger quarters. A 14,000 square-foot addition was opened in March, 1971.

In July, 1986, the North Carolina General Assembly funded another addition and major renovations for O'Kelly Library in the amount of nearly $5.1 million. The "new library" is designed to provide services that will support graduate programs in liberal arts and business. It will be fully automated from acquisitions to reference.

Approximately 150,000 volumes are currently in O'Kelly Library. To support the proposed curriculum, 180,000 titles should be available by 1990. In years past, the sustained efforts of many alumni and friends helped the library come of age.

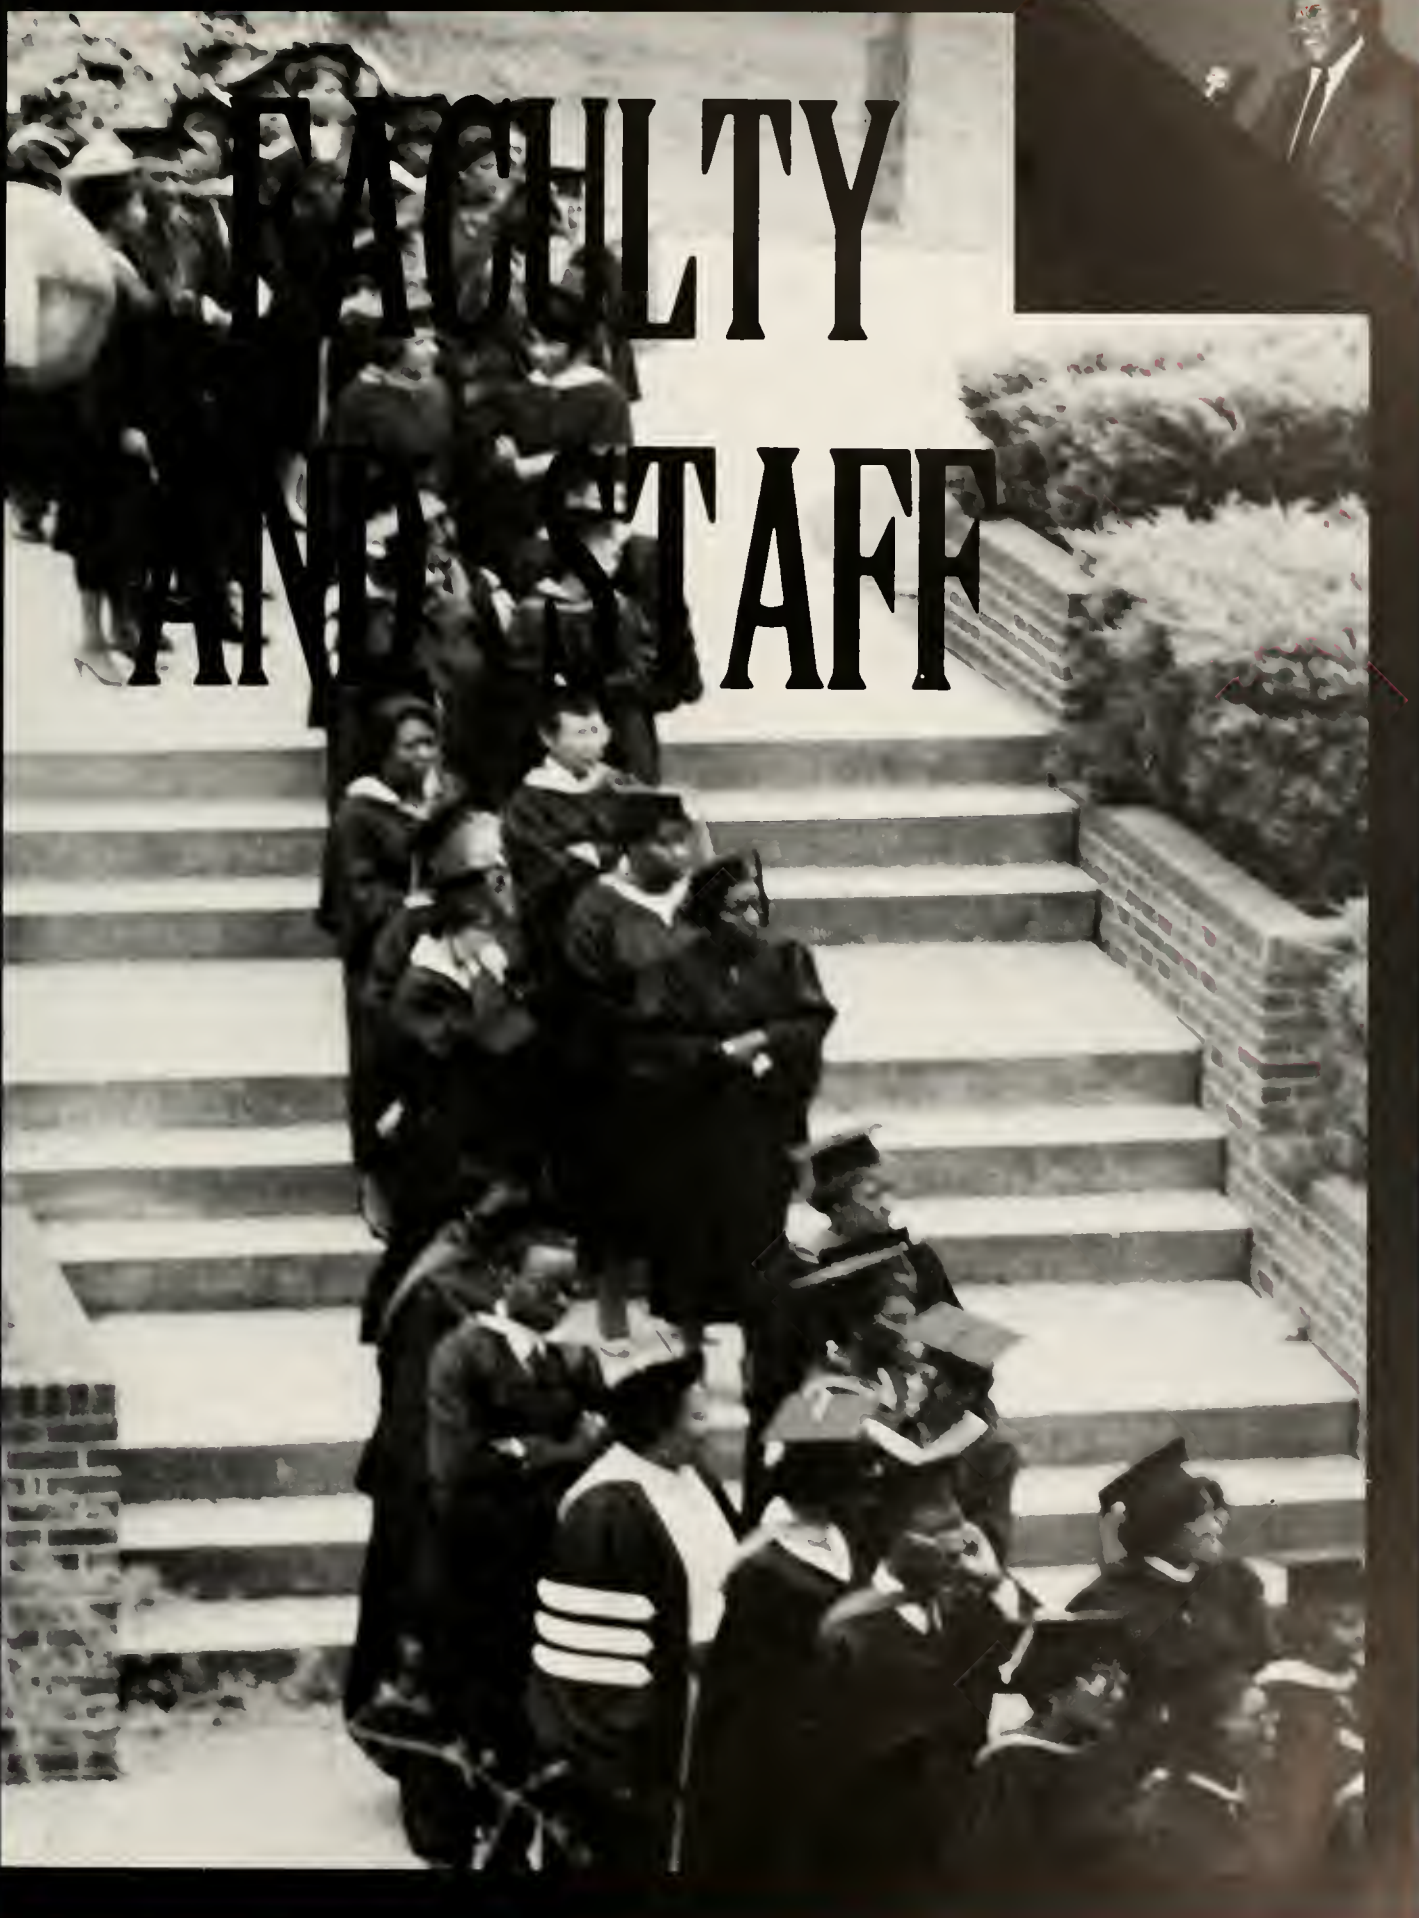

The project completion date will be summer of 1989. After the library is completed it will hold 250,000 volumes, a student lounge and 30 small individual study rooms (small enough for only one person.) The library will maintain its present levels. The facility will be completely automated for the circulation and card catalog system.

LOVING MEMORIES

Do not stand at my grave and weep
I am not there, I do not sleep
I am a thousand winds that blow,
I am the diamond glints on snow,
I am sunlight on ripened grain,
I am the gentle autumn's rain,
I am the soft star that shines at night
Do not stand at my grave and cry,
I am not there.

ALMA MATER

As we go forth from Old State U.
 A song of praise we sing to you,
 In praises to the memory
 Of days at State University

Thy sons and daughters bring thee fame
 Through knowledge which we here have gained.
 Exultingly we raise thy name,
 O Winston-Salem State University.

As we go forth from Old State U.
 Good leaders we will always be.
 And stand for all humanity,
 As you've taught us, State University.

In all we do we shall proclaim
 To all the world thy teaching fame,
 As we go forth we praise thy name,
 O Winston-Salem State University.
 — Noah F. Ryder
